MILL LAMPS AND LANTERNS.

THE HAWAIIAN AFFAIR.

THE MATTER DISCUSSED IN THE SENATE.

Senators Mills of Texas and Hill of New York Vigorously Defend the Administration.

THE HAWAIIAN RESOLUTION CHAMPIONED BY REPUBLICAN SENATORS.

The Measure Finally Adopted—The Appropriation Bills Held Back—The Unveiling of General Shields' Status.

Washington, December 6.—A spirited discussion of the Hawaiian question occupied the senate today. The debate arose over a resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts requesting the president to forward to the senate all correspondence on the Hawaiian question. Mr. Hoar said the resolution covered a period of three administrations and hoped that the resolution would be referred to committee so that instructions would show a history of executive policy concerning the matter. He said that there had been no party or political difference of opinion. If the president's message meant anything, it meant that the president was investigating the question whether he should, by his own executive authority, commit an act of war against a friendly power. If what was apparently proposed to be done, has not been done yet, Mr. Hoar desired that the swift and ingenuous remonstrance of the people should make itself manifest.

The president was getting into the habit of referring every extraordinary language in his despatch to the other branches of the government.

The president also called up and passed the bill for the appointment of two additional commissioners to the supreme court of Oklahoma Territory.

At 1:30 the house adjourned to attend the unveiling of the shields monument.

THE SHIELDS' STATUS.

Washington, December 6.—The status of General James Shields, warrior, jurist and statesman, presented to congress by the state of Illinois, was unveiled in the custom house this afternoon with suitable ceremony.

It is a bronze military figure of heroic size on a granite pedestal and is the work of Leonard Volk, who died in 1875. It was designed by three firms of Chicago, Milwaukee, Minnesota and Missouri to be leading parts in the ceremony of unveiling.

Mr. Mills of Texas opposed the resolution. He said that the president was not to be trusted with such a power.

Mr. Hoar argued that the president was not to be trusted with such a power.

Mr. Hill of New York supported the resolution.

Mr. Mills of Texas argued that the president had been strictly confined within the limits of executive authority.

Mr. Hoar retorted that the president had been acting in a friendly manner.
